

NEW YEAR PROGRAMME

for children 8 - 13 years

Do you know a child needing more space to write, or more time to think? Could they dream up a gruesome ghost story? Could they learn to put it differently? Do they want to write a petrifying poem? Do they want to explain, and even to persuade? Come to these classes to learn how to do themed pieces of thinking and writing. Children will have fun, put their imagination into hyperdrive, and learn how to make a talk, a story or a poem that is totally absorbing.

Alison Allsopp is a primary school teacher/ teacher trainer
Brian Evans-Jones is a local poet/ creative writing teacher
Miriam Coley is a writer/ teacher of English and drama

Bob Cox is an advanced skills teacher/ educationalist

REGULAR CLASSES

throughout the term

A ten week programme, commencing in the week of 9th January

most Mondays Philosophy 5-6.30pm	every Wednesday Creative Writing 5 – 6.30pm	every Thursday Creative Writing 5-6.30pm
£75 for seven sessions	£105 for ten sessions	£105 for ten sessions

MASTER CLASSES

on MONDAYS

£15 per session: 4-6pm each time

An occasional series of one-off sessions:

- 23rd Jan: Creating a Literary World: Thomas Hardy's Wessex
27th Feb : Predicting the Future: H.G. Wells and 'The Time Machine'
12th Mar: A Journey through Poems: Various poets